1. Met with [REDACTED] to discuss the use of personnel statistics in estimating space requirements for the proposed new building. It was agreed that we should use the ceiling figure, plus casuals, military, etc., with an additional column for reasonably firm but not finally approved projects. A written instruction will be disseminated to the Steering Committee members.

3. Jim Garrison, [REDACTED] and I briefed General Cabell on the plans for expansion of their facilities on [REDACTED]

25X1A6a

An [REDACTED] representative is to give additional briefings on Friday to the Logistics and DD/P people; however, it is certain that the [REDACTED] has reasonably firm plans for expansion of their facilities [REDACTED] and it was the consensus that such expansion would not create a difficult security problem for us but, in some ways, might help in the further development of our own facilities there.
